No Second Term For Eisenhower, Writer Predicts

By ED CREAGH
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (P)—One report's opinion: President Eisenhower will not run for a second term.

This is climbing out on a long limb. What the voters do Nov. 2—whether they give the Republicans another two years in control of Congress—could have a lot to do with making up the President's mind.

Unless, that is, he already has made it up. This reporter's impression is that he has.

Thinks of His Farm

Mind you, this is only an impression—an educated hunch at best. The only man who can say with certainty what's in the President's mind is the President himself. And, following well-established practice, he's keeping his thoughts on this question very much to himself.

So any forecast that is more than idle crystal gazing must be based on (1) what the President's attitude seems to be, as well as newsmen covering his activities can determine it, and (2) what the people around him think he will do.

It is from these sources that this reporter, who sometimes covers the White House, has formed the impression. Eisenhower will not run again—always barring some unforeseen factor.

James B. Reston wrote in the New York Times recently that in his opinion it is doubtful the President will agree to run. Reston quoted an unnamed close associate of the President's as telling him:

"The one thing that really makes his eyes light up is talk of his farm in Gettysburg."

Doesn't Like Politics

Others have told this reporter much the same thing. And I've been able to watch the President inspect the almost completed remodeling job on his Pennsylvania farmhouse.

It was hard to avoid the impression that here was a man lovingly planning a home—his first real home in many a year—that he meant to live in, and not just retire to on weekends.

Another strong impression is that, while Eisenhower is determined to do a good job as president, he still doesn't like the job and still less does he like the party politics—and some of the politicians—that go with it.

There is fairly general agreement among those in daily contact with the President that, if his personal wishes were all that counted, he'd be delighted to say farewell to

Russia Softens Up On Issues, Trying To Divide Allies

By TOM HOPE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (P)—Western diplomats are trying to fathom the motive beneath Russia's apparent softening on issues that have deadlocked U.N. councils for years.

These diplomats, who have learned from experience that the Kremlin rarely gives ground on one point without trying to regain it on another, are lending a wary ear to conciliation statements by Chief Soviet Delegate Andrei Vishinsky and his aides.

These overtures—which pointedly exclude the United States—appear aimed at splitting America from her allies and winning friends for Russia.

Big Play On Disarmament

With the current assembly session still in the opening stage, the Soviets already have made cooperative gestures on disarmament, Trieste and other issues on which they had long been adamant.

First sign of a shift in Soviet tactics came two weeks ago when Vishinsky offered a disarmament plan based largely on the British-French proposals which the Russians had bitterly rejected only four months earlier.

Pressed by Britain and France for concrete evidence as to just how far Russia was willing to go in agreement with the West, Vishinsky offered in general terms to:

1. Withdraw Russia's long-standing demand for an immediate ban on atomic weapons and agree to start instead with step-by-step reduction of conventional arms.

2. Agree to an international disarmament parley if the other powers concur.

3. Agree to inspection of Russia's arsenals "to the point necessary to insure the implementation of the disarmament plan."

West On Defensive

But Vishinsky refused to answer directly when Britain's Selwyn Lloyd asked him whether Russia would agree to establishment of a control organ empowered to enter the nations concerned to see whether they were carrying out provisions of the disarmament plan.

The climax came when Russia made a conditional offer to co-sponsor a Western proposal for further negotiations on disarmament and atomic control.

U.S. circles have voiced concern that one Soviet proviso—to limit

Jet Airliners Break Up Under Pressure, British Expert Says

LONDON (P)—A public Court of Inquiry heard today that two British crashed Comet jet airliners broke open under pressure with the passengers probably being hurled into space with the twin killing of an eye.

Sir Lionel Heald, appearing for the Crown said British aviation experts ruled out sabotage as a cause of the two crashes in the Mediterranean this year.

He told the court's opening session investigations pointed to "a sudden disruption of the pressure cabin" in the planes that most likely occurred when the aircraft reached maximum height imposing the greatest stresses on the cabin pressure system.

One Comet crashed in the sea off Elba Jan. 10, killing 35. A second went into the sea below April 8 with the loss of 21. Both aircraft had taken off from Rome shortly before the accidents.

The crashes brought on the grounding of all Comets.

There was no indication at the hearing that the jet powered passenger planes would be back in commercial operation any time in the foreseeable future.

Flood Diminishes On Ohio River

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (P)—This Ohio River town 272 miles below Pittsburgh expected the bloated stream to crest here late this afternoon far below a 50-foot flood stage.

The Ohio River, which burst its banks further upstream after rains which accompanied Hurricane Hazel, crested at Pomeroy, Ohio, 22 miles upstream, Monday night at 42.7 feet. The flood stage there is 47 feet.

It takes 47½ feet of water to reach the main street of Pomeroy. There was some water covering the municipal parking lot there this morning, but no other damage was apparent. The Gallipolis flood stage is 50 feet, and observers said they expected a 41-foot crest.

Nearly all the force that brought death and destruction upstream during the weekend appeared to be gone.

The cold, muddy waters took four lives Sunday in Pittsburgh.

Said Miss United States: "Gosh, I'm always second."

Then she gave Miss Egypt a congratulatory kiss.

Miss Hultman placed second in a Miss U. S. A. contest in California earlier this year.

21% Of Escanaba's Chest Goal Reached

A total of $2,624.80 or 21 per cent of Escanaba's quota of $12,500 in Delta County's $20,000 Community Chest campaign has been received to date, Robert Fontaine, Escanaba city drive chairman, reported this morning.

"This amount is nearly all mail response," Fontaine said. "Only the 1600 and 1700 block of Ludington Street has been reported to date.

"With this initial mail response, I especially urge all solicitors now to complete their work as rapidly as possible so that we may achieve our Escanaba goal."

$800 From Paper Union

William E. Anderson, county chairman, said this morning that he expected a report of returns soon from Russell Kent, Gladstone chairman, and also Andrew Houston and Fred Bernhard, who are canvassing the 14 townships in the county.

"We fell just barely short of the goal last year, and we all must work hard to make sure the county reaches $20,000 this year so that the work of the six participating agencies can go ahead in 1955 without being curtailed in any way," Anderson said.

Mrs. R. Stoll, Community Chest secretary, said yesterday the biggest boost came from Escanaba Paper Company employees of Local Union 110 who turned in $800 to the Community Chest. This represents a substantial increase over last year.

$200 From Barbershoppers

The Escanaba chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Singing in America, headed by Richard Schmelzler, Saturday night presented a check for $200 to Fontaine, Escanaba city chairman. The presentation was made on the stage at the barbershoppers' "Harvest of Harmony" program at the Escanaba Junior High School.

Another $200 check was received from the Upper Peninsula Power and Light Company, and the Northwest Fruit Company mailed in a check for $100 for the Delta County Community Chest.

Clements, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. James Reasbeck and Dolores Espanola, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Panake, Sudbury, Ont.; Mrs. Stella Rahm, Iron Mountain; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hale, Mrs. Joseph Allard and Mrs. Elsie Kennedy, Gladstone, and Mr. and Mrs. Con Oie and Mrs. Mary Peterson, Ishpeming.

Funds from the sale will be used by the Girl Scouts Troop treasurers for payment of annual membership dues, help toward camping expenses, a down payment towards a new uniform or the purchasing of materials or equipment needed in a worth-while community project.

"We're just over the $2,500 mark and have $10,000 more to go to reach our goal," Fontaine said.

Clear Site For State Building

In preparation for the construction by the Escanaba Building Corporation of a building in the 300 block, Ludington St., to house offices of state agencies and departments, the city of Escanaba yesterday opened bids for the dismantling of an old city-owned building on the site.

The building to be razed is located at 321 Ludington and is a two-story structure. Successful bidder was Walter Vian of 314 N. 18th St., whose bid of $279 was the highest of three received, according to City Clerk George Harvey.

Escanaba City Council had approved the taking of bids for the removal of the old building in the 300 block to clear the site for the proposed state office building.

At its last meeting the Council also approved a petition to be submitted to Delta County Circuit Court asking Judge Glenn W. Jackson to allow the city to transfer the sum of $220,000 in Catherine Bonifas funds to the Escanaba Building Corporation. This would assist in financing construction of the state office building, whose total cost is estimated at $325,000.

The Escanaba Building Corporation is a non-profit corporation created for the purpose of erecting and administering an office building to house state and local governmental agencies and departments.

The city also accepted the high bid yesterday of William Gartland, 1811 13th Ave. N., to remove a privately-owned building at 1206 N. 19th St., whose owner had failed to comply with a removal order of the City Council. Gartland's bid, highest of seven bids, was $81.20.

During the services, two duets, "Where We'll Never Grow Old" and "Valley of Peace" were sung by Mrs. John Holland and Alex Cathcart. Accompanist was Mrs. Anna Harrod.

Out-of-town guests were Guy McIntosh, Mt. Clements, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. James Reasbeck and Dolores Espanola, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Panake, Sudbury, Ont.; Mrs. Stella Rahm, Iron Mountain; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hale, Mrs. Joseph Allard and Mrs. Elsie Kennedy, Gladstone, and Mr. and Mrs. Con Oie and Mrs. Mary Peterson, Ishpeming.

Teaching Series Planned Oct. 21-22 For Episcopalians

Episcopalians of Northern Michigan will have the opportunity Thursday and Friday, Oct. 21 and 22, to learn firsthand of the new teaching series of their Church. On those days a team, headed by the Rev. Grant Morrill, from the National Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church will be at St. John's Church, Negauke, for a diocesanwide leadership training course.

This National Council caravan is visiting each diocese to introduce those parts of the new church school curriculum already prepared and to train parish leaders to use the complete curriculum, due for issuance next year. Since the new curriculum concerns itself with every member of the parish, regardless of age, all parish organizations will share in the discussions.

City Finishing Work Program

Escanaba's summer construction program is drawing to a close, but some projects are continuing until bad weather will force them to halt, according to City Manager A. V. Aronson.

Among the latter is the ditching along Danforth Road in the city, an improvement just started in preparation for grading and surfacing.

To be completed this week is the construction of a 24-inch storm sewer in the Catholic Central High School area; and completed is a 15-inch storm sewer on 10th Ave. S., where the street is now being leveled.

The city manager reported that steam service extensions to serve the Chicago & North Western Railway, under contract approved by the City Council, is being completed. So also is a steam service connection to the Manning Shoe Store.

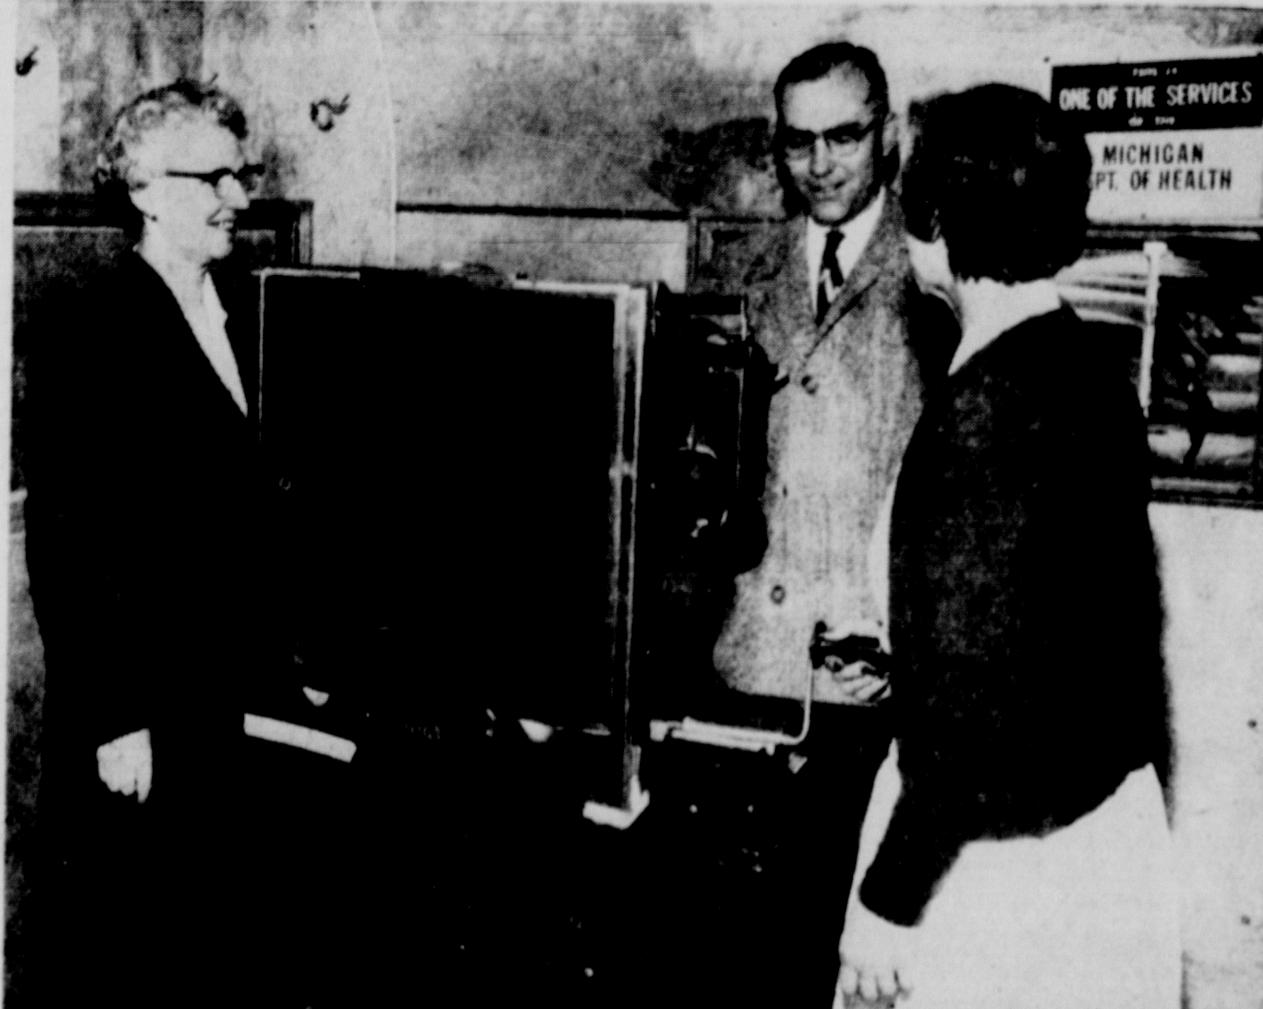

Sandfill has been completed at a new hardball diamond at city park land on Lake Shore Drive at the old Brewery location. Top soil will be applied later and a back stop will be erected next spring.

Two city police officers, Patrolmen Lawrence Johnson and Robert Curran, are now at Michigan State College, receiving a four-week basic police school training. They will return Nov. 6. The city manager also reported that in September the police department issued a total of 914 traffic violation tickets, of which 110 were for moving violations, 737 for parking violations, and 67 miscellaneous violations.

Another city employee, Fred Gravelle of the water department, has returned from Michigan State College where he attended a special course in new techniques in bacteriological analysis.

Editorials—*Nuclear Powered Airplane May Be Built In 5 To 10 Years

THE ancient dream of unlimited flight is rapidly nearing reality. A nuclear-powered airplane—which can fly for great lengths of time without needing any refueling—may be built within five or 10 years.

This is the gist of a news report which recently came from The Wall Street Journal. The Journal states, as a fact, that designers of nuclear planes have licked their most difficult problem. They are ready to start construction, it says, as soon as they

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

Our native politicians have always shown a talent for creating colorful phrases to describe the political scene. A good many of them—such as "favorite son," "gag-rule" and "straight ticket"—are self-explanatory. Others like "roorback," "mugwump" and "carpetbagger" may well require explanation.

Ever hear of a "roorback"? Well, it's a defamatory lie about a candidate given wide circulation on the eve of election. Its success—when it does succeed—depends upon its timing, for if the libeled candidate has sufficient time to present the facts to the electorate, public opinion is likely to swing to his support and away from the candidate who stooped to vicious libel.

The original roorback took the form of a printed account, back in 1844, of the alleged trip through southern states of one Baron Roorback. He reported seeing a number of Negro slaves bearing the brand of James K. Polk, Democratic candidate for the Presidency. Since no Roorback really existed and since Polk was elected anyway, one might say that the first roorback backfired. This hasn't kept unscrupulous politicians from attempting the trick many times since, however.

"Mugwump" is a political figure who refuses to follow faithfully the dictates of his party. The term, originally an Algonquian Indian word for "chief," first came into wide use in its political sense when many Republicans refused to support the party's candidate (James G. Blaine) in the election of 1884. Democratic Governors Byrnes and Shivers who bolted to President Eisenhower in 1952 might well have been labeled "mugwumps," although the label is usually reserved for non-conformist Republicans.

"Carpetbagger," as most of us recall from our school history courses, is the term used for unscrupulous Northern political adventurers who, carrying their meager belongings in the then-fashionable carpetbags, roamed through the shattered South in the years immediately following the Civil War. The shameless way in which they took advantage of the impoverished Southerners has made "carpetbagger" a lasting symbol of political trickery and venality.

Tentative title of Ernest Hemingway's own story of his African adventures—and misadventures—is "Gin Is Not for Little Children." A TV magnate who flew abroad to discuss a possible network appearance for "Papa" H says the novelist suffered his most severe injuries not from his two successive plane crashes, but from a forest fire that swept his encampment shortly thereafter, actually singeing his famous whiskers. In reply to the natural query, "Why did you suppress the story of the fire?" Hemingway explained to the TV man, "After all that went before, this was just one too many. Nobody would have believed me!"

In Pierre Berton's lively "The Royal Family," he recalls a sea trip Queen Victoria made to Ireland. The ship encountered dirty weather, and one monstrous wave almost knocked Her Majesty's galley west.

The Doctor Says . . .*Surgery Is Most Effective Treatment for a Hernia

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.—Written for NEA Service

Several questions regarding hernia have been brought up by a recent correspondent which I shall attempt to answer in this column.

He says that he is 60 and has had a hernia on his left side for several years. He has received literature from a hernia control service and wonders if this will bring permanent control, since he is not too keen on an operation.

One cannot give a specific reply to these questions without knowing more concerning the degree of the hernia, the physical condition of the patient and his occupation. The question of hernia or rupture, which is the same thing, can however be discussed in general and may throw some light on this correspondent's questions.

RUPTURE is a weakening of the structures which are supposed to hold the organs in place, usually the abdominal organs. It is believed that this weakness is more or less inborn, though it may never show up unless some heavy strain has been put on the weakened tissue by lifting something too heavy or some similar injury.

But once a rupture has developed, it is likely to get gradually worse and may even get so bad that some of the organs lying in the ruptured sac can become strangulated and cause serious complications.

THERE ARE three possible lines of treatment for a hernia. The simplest is to wear a truss or support which may keep the sac and abdominal contents more or less in place. This can be reasonably satisfactory for a person who does not do heavy labor, though there is always some danger that a sudden strain will cause serious trouble. Also it is a nuisance. Nevertheless, there are many people who can wear a truss for many years with fairly good success.

Some years ago the injection treatment was suggested for hernia. The purpose of injection is to irritate the inside of the hernial sac so that a firm scar will form at the point where the hernia is bulging and force back the contents of the sac where it belongs.

This method requires several treatments and carries some risk. Also the scar tissue formed is not always strong enough to bring permanent relief. Although the injection treatment still has some supporters, it is probably not used as much as it used to be and is not as desirable as surgery in most cases.

SURGERY IS the most effective treatment. By this means the contents of the sac can be put back in place and a firm covering built up at the weak point so that the organs are kept where they belong. The hernia occasionally returns after such operations, often because of the carelessness of the patient, but modern methods of operating have improved the technique so much that fewer and fewer recurrences develop.

An Oregon man ate almost a peck of apples at one sitting. Perhaps he had just received a doctor bill.

A stitch in time is usually a surprise to a married man.

A Michigan farmer boasts of owning a 12-year-old Plymouth Rock hen. And just as he is going to sell her for a springer?

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—When the government presents a case to a federal court, it is entitled to a fair trial, and the judge who tries the case is usually obligated to disqualify himself if he has previously expressed an opinion adverse to either party in the case.

This is the rule and the custom in American jurisprudence. Yet it is an amazing example of the prejudices that exist today where anti-Communist controversies are involved to find the U.S. attorney himself under attack when he asks for the disqualification of a judge.

Less than 18 months ago, the head of a leading aircraft firm cancelled the company's research work, and said that a nuclear plane would hardly get off the ground. He summed up the general opinion when he saw it as just "a big clunker."

Within the past year, however, scientists-engineers have quietly worked out reactor designs which they're sure will provide the answers. We now can build A planes, they say, which are lighter in weight than our larger bombers.

Although deep official secrecy surrounds every phase of the project, preliminary work on an airplane reactor already has been begun, it is said. The green light for actual building attempts still hasn't been announced. But factions within the Pentagon are said to be urging action, and the job may be tackled at any time.

As to when such a plane could be flown, there seems to be some disagreement. Some engineers who are skeptical say not before 15 years. Others hotly dispute this and claim, if we started now, we could do it within only five years.

The argument made by the second group is that every atomic advance to date came sooner than most predictions. Or to use the words of the Journal: "The optimists have usually been right."

It is hoped they are right again. Long-range nuclear aircraft, which could stay in the air for days, would give us a major advantage in a possible future war. Then, of course, there's the brighter side—for, after successful war planes are built, we can start producing commercial planes.

And once we've done that, who knows? If reactors are lightened still more, perhaps we can go even further and use them in land vehicles. Trains, buses and freight trucks may someday run thousands of miles on tiny marbles of fuel.

Today it sounds quite fantastic, even to most of the experts. But as recent as 15 years ago, so did the awesome hydrogen bomb.

Questions and Answers

Q—Has the burial place of Hamlet, the hero of Shakespeare's tragedy, been discovered?

A—Historians generally believe that Hamlet was buried at Amiens in Jutland. There are, however, 10 gravestones in Denmark to indicate his alleged last resting place.

Q—Did President Jackson's wife reside in the White House?

A—Rachel Robards Jackson lived to see her husband elected President, but died before he moved into the White House.

A double ring ceremony was performed at St. Anne's Church for the marriage of Miss Janet Adele Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Peterson, 328 S. 18th St., and Denham Hart Lord Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Lord Sr., 302 N. 18th St., Saturday, Oct. 16. Adorning the altar were arrangements of fall flowers in tall gold vases.

The Rev. Clifford Nadeau solemnized the 10 a. m. Nuptial High Mass.

The Mass of the Blessed Virgin was sung by the Misses Carol Jean Peterson, Jean LaBranche, Leone Lancer and Darlene Boudreau. Sr. Fabiola was the organist. Two solos, "Ave Maria" at the Offertory of the Mass and "On This Day On Beautiful Mother" as the bride placed a bouquet at the altar of the Blessed Virgin were sung by Miss Jean LaBranche.

Three Attendants

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of lace over satin fashioned with a Queen Anne collar and long sleeves scalloped over wrists. The bouffant skirt styled with an accordion pleated net insert was outlined by scalloped lace. Her fingertip veil edged with appliques of lace was caught to a coronet. She carried a bouquet of large white mums with feathered mums cascading.

Miss Barbara Reiff, Milwaukee, a former roommate at St. Mary's School of Nursing, Milwaukee, acted as maid of honor. Her floor length gown of dusty pink was styled with a net over satin skirt and velvet strapless bodice. A matching velvet bolero was designed with bateau neckline. She wore a headband of feathered pink carnations and carried a basket of rubrum lilies.

Bridal aides, Miss Pat Lund and Miss Lois Mercier, a cousin of the bride, both of Detroit, were attired in gowns of gold hues styled identical to the maid of honor's. They wore headbands of yellow pompons and carried baskets of baby mums in fall shades.

250 At Reception

Leslie Desmond served as best man. Groomsmen were Allison Lord, the bridegroom's brother, and George A. Peterson, brother of the bride. Ushering the guests to their seats were William Lord, Philadelphia, a brother of the bridegroom, and Robert Stevens, Milwaukee.

The mother of the bride wore a navy crepe dress with pink accessories, while Mrs. Lord attended her son's wedding in a Dior blue dress with pink and navy accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of pink roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding dinner for the bridal party and the two families was served at the Dells. A wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's parents from 3 to 7 p. m. for 250 guests. Assisting were Misses Susan Lindsay, Marilyn Kennelly and Noreen Gingrass, pouring, and Miss Betty Houle, who cut and served the cake.

Four Proposals Discussed By Women Voters League

Both units, afternoon and evening, of the League of Women Voters met at the Carnegie Public Library yesterday for a discussion of the four proposals that will be on the ballot in the November election. Mrs. George Ruwitch, voters service chairman, led the discussion and was assisted in the presentation of the subjects by Mrs. Sam Molod and Mrs. Frank Neumeier.

Proposal No. 2, known as the "Conlin plan" occupied the greater part of the discussion. Proposal No. 1, an amendment to prevent disqualification of voters because of having moved within this state during the 30 days preceding an election, was described as a remedy for a "type of disfranchisement that seems both unfair and unnecessary" and has been recommended by the Governor's Study Commission on Election Law Reform and the County Clerks Association of Michigan. There seem to be no outstanding reasons for opposition to this proposal, Mrs. Ruwitch stated.

Bonus Proposal

Proposal No. 3 is an amendment authorizing borrowing of not to exceed $80,000,000 to pay bonuses for military service during the "Korean War." This bonus would be in addition to benefits provided by the federal government such as insurance, hospital care, financial assistance to buy homes, farms and secure an education. Proponents of the proposal state that it would be pursuing a consistent policy by the state in its treatment of veterans who have served the country during wartime inasmuch as state bonuses have been paid to World War I and II veterans. Opponents of the measure state that such bonuses are an unjustified expense when there are other great needs in the state such as schools, hospitals, etc. They also point out that additional taxes may have to be levied to pay for the bonuses. Some people are of the opinion that states should not provide bonuses for federal military service.

Forced To Borrow

Because the Conlin proposal involves state aid to schools which is determined on a complicated financial formula it was necessary to spend a great part of the discussion on background material in order to understand the implications of the proposal, it was said. The main argument in favor of the proposal is that it would eliminate the so called "time bomb" in the distribution of sales tax monies to the schools. Under the present system collections go into the state's general fund with no strings attached and are used for current expenses, then in the following year a certain percentage of that money that was in the general fund from sales tax collections during the previous year is due to the school districts.

On a number of occasions the money that was due the schools was no longer available in the general fund and school districts were forced to borrow money to meet payroll and other expenses while the state waited for their coffers to fill up again so they could pay what was due the schools.

The Conlin proposal would set aside 66 2/3 per cent of the sales tax money as it is collected to be used for school aid. On the surface it would appear that the gambling might flourish under the guise of charitable organizations, that approval might lead to a dangerous penetration of Michigan by gambling syndicates and that gambling might be legalized without providing adequate controls and policing for proper enforcement of the law. This proposal in itself would not legalize lotteries for charitable purposes but would permit the legislature to do so and also to enact legislation defining "non-profit charitable lotteries" and enforcing the law. The Delta County Ministerial Association, among other groups, opposes this proposal.

Reasons For Opposition

As the number of teachers, etc. increased the sum deducted for their retirement fund would increase as the formula under the Conlin plan calls for a sum equal to 5 to 7 1/2 per cent of the total salaries of all public school employees to be deducted from the schools share of the sales tax monies before it is distributed to the schools. Mrs. Ruwitch pointed out that in the first year of operation the schools would receive the same amount of aid providing collections stayed the same but that as school employees increased the share left over for school aid distribution would decrease.

The Michigan Education Association favors the Conlin proposal but is not actively campaigning for its adoption.

Forced To Borrow

Because the Conlin proposal involves state aid to schools which is determined on a complicated financial formula it was necessary to spend a great part of the discussion on background material in order to understand the implications of the proposal, it was said. The main argument in favor of the proposal is that it would eliminate the so called "time bomb" in the distribution of sales tax monies to the schools. Under the present system collections go into the state's general fund with no strings attached and are used for current expenses, then in the following year a certain percentage of that money that was in the general fund from sales tax collections during the previous year is due to the school districts.

On a number of occasions the money that was due the schools was no longer available in the general fund and school districts were forced to borrow money to meet payroll and other expenses while the state waited for their coffers to fill up again so they could pay what was due the schools.

The League of Women Voters opposes the Conlin proposal, primarily because it writes into the Constitution of the state a rigid formula for taxation, it was announced. This is against the principles of good government. A constitution should contain broad principles which should be implemented by flexible legislation that may be changed easily as conditions change, the League feels. The proposal also repeats the distribution of aid on the basis of population, regardless of the need. The League believes that state aid should not be given to districts that are capable of supporting their own local services such as education, but that aid should be distributed to those areas that cannot raise sufficient local funds to insure minimum standards of education. The League believes that although some features of the proposal may be desirable, in the long run it will not solve the problem of school aid but may create more difficulties than it will resolve.

The Conlin proposal would set aside 66 2/3 per cent of the sales tax money as it is collected to be used for school aid. On the surface it would appear that the proposal is an amendment to permit the Legislative to authorize charitable lotteries. Those in favor of the proposal say that this will permit charitable groups to conduct lotteries once again and thus provide them with a relatively easy way to finance their projects.

Opponents of the proposal point out that the amendment legalizes all lotteries and does not state specifically "bingo" and that mass

Year's Program And Readings Are D. A. R. Topics

Members of Lewis Cass Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Oliver V. Thatcher, discussed the activities for the coming year and heard readings on pertinent subjects.

Big Car Market Foreseen In '55

DETROIT (AP) — Next year's car market will require 5,593,000 new passenger units, the 18th annual Crowell-Collier survey reported.

The survey, conducted in mid-1954, said some 33 per cent of the prospective new car purchasers expect prices to decline; 37 per cent look for prices to remain unchanged.

The survey is conducted in representative marketing areas and has been uniformly accurate for many years.

This year's survey shows 77 percent of the new car prospects want automatic transmissions (compared with 29 per cent now owning them); 42 per cent want power brakes and 37 per cent want power steering.

Other results of survey were:

The average car delivers an average of 17.1 miles per gallon on the road (exclusive of city traffic).

Women influential in 65 per cent of the homes when new cars were chosen.

The survey showed 38,862,000 cars now are owned by 34,270,000 car owning families.

Choosy Thieves Take Mink Coats In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Selective thieves with expensive and artistic tastes operated in Chicago over the weekend.

Furs and fur coats worth an estimated $250,000 were taken from the Margarita-Mitchell, Inc., Loop office by cracksmen who smashed their way into the vault. Most of the loot was mink.

A collection of stamps valued at $100,000 was taken from the South Side apartment of Maj. Clifford W. Yost. The victim told police the looters left behind many stamps of lesser value and ignored his wife's jewelry.

Mrs. Babette Kornblith reported someone broke into her station wagon and took 10 of her own paintings. She declined to place a monetary value on them.

Bus Driver Stabbed But Stays At Wheel

WELLS, Nev. (AP) — A Salt Lake City bus driver brought his Greyhound bus safely into Wells Sunday night although bleeding from a knife wound in the side.

The driver, D. H. Stump, told authorities he was stabbed by an elderly passenger who apparently went berserk when he told the man he couldn't leave the bus on lonely Pequop Summit, 20 miles east of Wells on U.S. Highway 40.

Stump said the passenger slashed an unidentified passenger on the hand who attempted to intervene, and then stabbed Stump in the side. In the turmoil that followed, Stump said, the man escaped.

Neither Stump nor the unidentified passenger was said to be hurt seriously.

Goes To See His Girl, Lands In County Jail

ANTLERS, Okla. (AP) — David Impson, 20, knows now he should have walked the 25 miles to Atoka to see his girl friend.

He would have been there now instead of in the Pushmataha County Jail awaiting the outcome of three traffic complaints lodged against him by the highway patrol.

Patrolmen caught him driving a wrecker that was towing a car. The wrecker belonged to a garage, and motorists complained that they had been forced off the highway and that the wrecker did not have lights.

The charges — reckless driving, no driver's license and molesting a parked vehicle.

Secretary Of Labor Favors Union Merger

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor Mitchell went on record in favor of an AFL-CIO merger Sunday night, saying it would benefit both organized and unorganized working men and the country as a whole.

Interviewed on an NBC-TV program, Mitchell said he hopes for "one labor movement" in the nation because:

"... It would lead to more responsibility on the part of labor, more participation on the part of labor in our economic and social and political affairs and, in addition, would I hope eliminate many of the jurisdictional problems that now occur in the labor movement."

This was the bidding at the table in reference, where East-West were well known masters:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Pass	1 NT	Pass
Pass	Dble.	Pass	Pass

It is plain that a club lead by West, with a diamond return by East, would have resulted in a five-trick, 900-point penalty, but West was only a master—not fortune teller—so he opened his fourth-highest diamond.

The repercussions from this opening lead were very unfavorable to East-West. First, South won a diamond trick (with the ten) when he could have been "picked up" in diamonds, and second, when South led a heart to dummy and returned a low spade, East could not know that it was vital to put up the race. From East's point of view, West's diamonds might not be ready for cashing; he might have led from K-Q and low cards, and might have the heart suit stopped as compensation. So East, quite naturally, ducked the spade lead from dummy, and South won with the queen.

After getting this spade trick home South had no real cause for worry. He ran off three more hearts, but though he could not get the fulfilling trick, the 100-point penalty was very satisfactory from the North-South point of view. East-West not only could have defeated the hand five tricks, but due to the perfect break of diamonds, they actually could have made game in notrump on their own account, or failing that, they could at least have rolled up a fair score in diamonds—one of which would have given them a much better match-point standing.

Roads To Be Really Crowded By 1965

DETROIT (AP) — Think the highways are crowded today?

A report prepared for the American Automobile Assn. meeting here noted government estimates that 81 million motor vehicles will be on the nation's roads by 1965.

To emphasize the need for more and better highways, AAA officials got up a couple of statistics:

If placed bumper-to-bumper, 81 million cars would stretch 10 times around the earth at the equator. Or, in a straight line, they would reach to the moon.

If piled on top of each other pancake-style, the 81 million cars would make a heap 65,000 miles high.

cancer and others who did not. The cancer patients had either cancer of the breast or uterus, the two most common sites of female cancer.

They did not find that cancer, in any sites in general, occurred with any unusual frequency in relatives of women who had cancer of the breast or uterus.

The relatives of women who had breast cancer didn't have more breast cancer than relatives of women free of that kind of cancer.

They did find some statistical evidence, not strong, that cancer of the uterus might be more common among relatives of women with uterine cancer.

United Nations Buildings, Work Described For Rotary

The United Nations buildings in New York and the work of the international organization were outlined for members of the Manistique Rotary club Monday noon by J. Earl Cousineau, Manistique High School teacher.

The speaker, who was introduced by Carl Olson, visited the UN headquarters during the National Education association meetings in New York this summer. About 13,000 teachers were there at the time, he said.

Cousineau described the size, color, and decorative schemes used for the various rooms in buildings on the 18-acre tract, and pointed out that the general effect of the interior decorating is to promote a relaxed, peaceful atmosphere.

U. S. Reimbursed

Because of Russian use of the veto power in the Security Council, the General Assembly now takes precedence over the Council, where concurrence of the five major powers—Russia, England, United States, France and China—is necessary on substantive questions, he asserted. The practice of transferring matters to the assembly started with the Franco-Spanish question, he explained. He added that since Russia cast its first veto in the Security Council Feb. 16, 1946, that country has cast 55 veto votes, and France, two.

The international organization, located on six blocks between 42nd and 48th streets and First Ave., and the East River, is comprised of 60 nations and each of these can send five delegates and five alternates, though each country has but one vote, the speaker explained.

Land for the UN building was donated by John D. Rockefeller, and the U. S. government paid for construction of the $60 million edifice, Cousineau stated. Already, he said, some money has been returned to the State Department for reimbursement of cost of the building.

Marin Becker, Gladstone's fine football end last year, is holding down a regular berth on the Northland College (Ashland) team this season . . . Becker has started every game this season and has caught several key passes in addition to turning in a capable defensive game each week . . . Also members of the team are freshman Waldon Johnson and sophomore lefterman George Anderson of Rapid River.

From The Alleys—J. W. (Walt) Van DeWeghe of the Gladstone Independent League, slammed a minute 625 series last week . . . He rolled games of 201, 224 and 200 . . . And Amy Moberg of the Elks Ladies Wednesday Night League picked up the 5-8-10 split.

This fall weather being what it is, most football teams in the Upper Peninsula are accustomed to playing in rotten weather . . . But Escanaba Catholic Central really ran into a mess at Crystal Falls Saturday afternoon . . . Besides being cold, it rained, hailed and snowed during the progress of the game!

At least two of the Upper Peninsula's high-ranked teams will collide this weekend . . . Wakefield, a Class C team with a 5-1 record, plays Hancock, a Class B club with an identical mark for the season . . . Menominee will also be at Soo and Iron River will be host to Iron Mountain . . . That's Iron River's final game.

When the Rapid River cross country team finished one-two-three-four and five in the Class C-D-E meet here Saturday Ken Harwood set a new Upper Peninsula record . . . And Steve Johnson and Jim Greenlund who came in second and third also broke the old record . . . Harwood's time was 11 minutes, 5½ seconds.

Balanced Attack Best Thing In Pro Football

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP)—Professional football teams have become pass crazy in the last decade, but there is nothing like a balanced attack, says George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears.

Halas should know! He saw his Bears shackle San Francisco for 30 minutes Sunday only to fold under the 49ers' devastating ground game.

Are the pros returning to running?

"They never left it," said Halas in an interview. "Any team that has a good ground game will utilize it and San Francisco has a great running game."

Balance Paid Off

But remember, they've got some pretty good passing. We had them bottled up Sunday but they've got balance and it paid off."

Cisco's passing attack in the first half and walked off the field with a 17-14 lead. The 49ers, although outplayed, had scored once on an intercepted pass and again when Hugh McElhenny broke loose for a long touchdown run.

Other than those two plays, it was strictly Chicago's game. Y.

A. Tittle's passes weren't clicking and it looked like a bad afternoon for the Californians.

Then San Francisco, with rookie Maurie Duncan leading, pounded the left side of the Bear line mercilessly and scored a quick 17 points in the third quarter to ice the contest. The 49ers won 31-24. And they did it by running.

Terrible Trio

McElhenny, John Henry Johnson and Jet Joe Perry left the seers who cry "You can't run in pro football" with their jaws hanging.

Not since the days of George McAfee, Hugh Gallarnau and Norm Staudler had Bear fans witnessed such running power.

Before the nightmarish quarter had even ended, Bear roasters wanted to know why their team wasn't running.

Aside from the fact that he has no McElhenneys, Johnsons or Perrys, Halas said, "We've got a good passing team and we've done well with passing."

The Bears have two victories in four games and unquestionably will improve last year's record of three triumphs in 11 games.

"I won't go to sleep," Nancy said, yawning widely. "It started at the swimming pool. I went up on the diving platform. It looked so much higher from the top, I decided to come back down the ladder. When I turned around I saw into the cave where the creek goes in, I saw the path, Jim."

"And you immediately decided that might be a quick way to get to The Spires?"

"Not right away. But I got a little bored waiting for you. And that silly business of getting Mrs. Gelstrap into a bathing suit. Anyway you'd told me to be careful, so I simply had to be careful."

"Of course you did," Jim said. Either the sarcasm was lost on Nancy or completely ignored.

"Being careful was the reason I didn't go into the cavern from this end. If anyone had been watching it might not have been such a good idea. And, after all, if the creek bed was used as a way to get to The Spires, there'd have to be an opening at the other end."

"That I can understand," Jim admitted.

"So I told everyone I was going to walk along to meet you. I walked around by the road and down to where the creek comes out, there by The Spires."

"Didn't you see the deputy?"

"I saw some man go past in an old car."

"Wasn't Miss Wister's car still parked there?"

"Yes. All locked up though. Anyway, I started wading upstream. And Jim, I left your gun on a flat rock. I didn't want it to get all wet."

"I saw it. That's the reason I knew where you'd gone."

She reached out for his hand, held it. "I didn't have any trouble ducking under the first wall and into a large sort of cave room. There was a candle burning there, Jim. A huge candle. One of those that'd burn for days and days."

Jim remembered his impression of light, just before something hit his head.

"I was glad of the light at first," Nancy went on. "I thought it was merely, at first. And I saw the doll."

"Doll?"

"Don't yell so," Nancy complained. "Yes, there was a doll there. A big doll. It had had yellow hair once, but most of that had fallen out. And Jim, someone had ripped the doll's body open, pinned it back together with safety pins. I guess that was so they could put the money, the letter and the diamond bracelet inside." Nancy yawned sleepily.

"Twenty thousand dollars," Nancy said. "I had plenty of time to count it. The bracelet probably cost seven or eight thousand. You know, Jim, I've never seen a thousand-dollar bill before."

"Married to a detective, you probably won't again."

"I got scared, Jim. I—well, I guess they'll say it's silly. But the doll was lying down when I found it. It seemed to have been tossed where it was. The eyes were closed. Jim, I was reading the letter when I got that feeling someone was watching me. I looked around and the doll's eyes were open. Oh, I know you'll say I moved the doll, and I did of course. But it frightened me, Jim. Maybe it was because I felt guilty about reading the letter anyway. The parts of it I could read. Water hadn't done it any good, Jim."

Dunn fought down his impatience. "The letter, Nancy. What did it say?"

"It was from Angelica's husband," Nancy said slowly. "I don't remember all the words, but I can give you its sense. It said he didn't, still didn't, approve of what Angelica was doing. He had a bad feeling about it, but anything she wanted to do was all right with him. He—he loves—her, Jim. And he wanted to know how soon she'd come back to him, how soon she would be able to collect the money she felt was due her. He said he didn't want the money, Jim. He—he wanted Angelica."

Jim Dunn drew in a deep breathing. Pieces clicked into place. Angelica's actions in returning to the Carlsons were explained clearly now. Her husband's career had been injured. Angelica intended to retrieve losses. Certainly, as a Carlson woman, she had had training along certain lines. Sure evidence of that lay in the $20,000, amassed somehow from the Carlsons in the period of one year. Certainly it explained Angelica's desperate attempts to regain the doll.

"Finally I got up nerve enough to try ducking through the upstream hole. I figured I couldn't be too far from the upper opening. There — there were round stones in the way. They moved a little when I pushed them, but I couldn't get through the opening. I climbed back out of the water in that candlestick hole, along with the doll. I decided finally I'd go back the way I'd come. And then, I thought I saw something. Some horrible thing was coming up through the water. I — I threw a rock at it and it went away."

Jim's fingers strayed to the lump on his head in an unconscious gesture. He did not realize what he had done until he saw Nancy's horrified and stricken look of understanding.

"Jim, it wasn't you—"

"James Horrible Thing Dunn," he admitted. "You throw too straight. And, for a damsel in distress, I must say you were unappreciative."

West Germany Has Navy Ready

BY RICHARD K. O'MALLEY
BREMERHAVEN, Germany (AP)—A West German navy will be able to take to the seas 24 hours after final ratification of the European defense treaty. It will consist of only some mine sweepers, tenders, oilers and small patrol craft. Nevertheless it will be a navy.

Under the London agreement, re-armed Germany would be limited to 20,000 naval personnel. Warships must be 3,000 tons or less.

There is no 3,000-ton vessel for the new navy available. But a fleet of rebuilt German mine sweepers now waits for ratification's X-day. These ships have been operating with German crews but under the American flag for two years.

Readiness of West Germany to step into its own sea role has been made possible by a quiet program instituted in 1952 by the U. S. Navy and a handful of its officers.

Two 10-boat squadrons of R-boats, each with a tender, regularly sweep the Baltic Sea to clear World War II mines from sea lanes. The R-boats are 167 tons, have a top speed of 18 knots, carry no armament at present, but are equipped with radar.

Officially designated as mine sweeping readiness unit, there are now 913 Germans, including 85 officers, in the American-supervised program. They have a total of 42 craft. Both officers and men belong to the U. S. Navy's German Labor Service Unit B at Bremerhaven.

Youthful Sao Paulo, Paces Brazil Progress

WASHINGTON—Every week of 1954 has had its share of celebrations in Sao Paulo, Brazil. Now, however, Latin America's largest industrial city approaches a climax in its full year of festivities that began on its 400th birthday, January 25, 1954.

In mid-September, says the National Geographic Society, the 4th centenary's foremost feature got under way. Sao Paulo's long-planned International Exhibit Fair opened in smart new pavilions in Ibirapuera Park, close to the city's commercial center. In the Palace of Nations, the Palace of Industries, and the Palace of Agriculture, the Western Hemisphere's folklore festivals, and international contests in music, drama, and sports entertain the 2,600,000 Paulistas and their guests.

Rolling Up To Rio

Even as it commemorates its founding by Jesuit priests in 1554, sphere republics are well represented at this European-style trade fair.

In other buildings and parks around the fast-growing skyscraper city, conventions, art exhibits, Sao Paulo (St. Paul) is pulling abreast of its tropical neighbor, Rio de Janeiro, in population. If Sao Paulo's current rate of growth of more than 100,000 new residents a year continues, the city promises to rank second only to Buenos Aires among South American cities.

North American visitors, seeing many great Chicago and Detroit industrial names among Sao Paulo's 15,000 or more manufacturing plants, find much to compare with those cities. The long tropical midday siesta is not found in this bustling city, though it lies virtually on the Tropic of Capricorn.

Sao Paulo did its dozing through its first three centuries, counting barely 25,000 people at the time of the Chicago fire in 1871. Like Chicago it holds few venerable ruins predating that time, when it was on the threshold of a great era of enterprise.

Coffee Blazed the Trail

Coffee was already spreading across plateau fields of Nevada-sized Sao Paulo State by 1822 when the Emperor Dom Pedro I, from the hill of Ipiranga near Sao Paulo town, proclaimed Brazil's independence. But the region's boom began in earnest only after midcentury when British capital built a railroad from the Atlantic port of Santos up the Serra do Mar to the coastal plateau and inland 40 miles to Sao Paulo and beyond.

Power projects followed railroad building, causing Brazilian industry to shift to Sao Paulo. North American engineering in the 1920's created hydroelectric power hought sufficient to meet many decades of expansion. Today, however, Sao Paulo's continued growth is threatened by power shortage, an electricity is rationed.

Pastor Gets Muskie Who Broke His Line

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Dr. Thomas R. Niven, pastor of Omaha First Presbyterian Church, told this fish story.

Recently, he and Ned B. Eastlack of Omaha went muskie fishing in Ontario, Canada. He hooked a 21-pound muskie but lost him when the fish broke the line.

How did he know the exact weight?

Well, he said that when he came home, Eastlack stayed at the lake.

Later, via air express collect came a package from Eastlack. In it was a 21-pound muskie still hooked in the mouth of the fish was Dr. Niven's lure.

NEW YORK (AP)—Railroad and aircraft shares led the stock market higher today. Some gains ran to as much as two points.

The rail shares have been among the better performers in recent sessions. Today they started to rally shortly after the opening, with higher-priced equities in the lead. Santa Fe, Atlantic Coast Line, Seaboard Air Line and Union Pacific quickly moved to gains of a point or more. Also in the van were Rock Island, Baltimore & Ohio, Southern Railway and Illinois Central.

Actor Tyrone Power And Linda Christian Break Up Marriage

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The marriage of Tyrone Power and Linda Christian, solemnized five years ago in Santa Francesco Catholic Church in Rome, has broken up. The two movie stars blame the split on "incompatibility over careers" but say there are no immediate plans for divorce.

The shapely Miss Christian will stay in Hollywood and pursue her film career. Power is leaving for New York as soon as he finishes his current movie, "Untamed," to start rehearsals for "The Dark Is Light Enough," in which he will co-star on the stage with Katharine Cornell.

Before the marriage, Power told reporters Miss Christian would give up her acting career "because two actors in one family wouldn't work."

There was a year-long international romance in Italy, Mexico, Spain and Hollywood. The church sanctioned the marriage because it had not recognized the civil ceremony which united Power with Anna, French actress.

Jackson was admitted to the hospital a week ago. He had been troubled with a heart ailment for eight years but continued to write his daily column about the lighter side of life.

Jackson came to Detroit as a youth from his native North Hatley, Quebec, and was graduated from old Central High School in 1912. In 1913 he joined the News.

After service in World War I, Jackson returned to the Detroit News as a reporter and later became a columnist.

He is survived by his wife, Gretchen, and two sons, Daniel D. and Harold C. L., Jr.
